Safeguarding

We are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of all children as the safety and protection of children is of paramount importance to everyone in this school. We work hard to create a culture of vigilance and at all times we will ensure what is best in the interests of all children.

We believe that all children have the right to be safe in our society. We recognise that we have a duty to ensure arrangements are in place for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children by creating a positive school atmosphere through our teaching and learning, pastoral support and care for both pupils and school personnel, training for school personnel and with working with parents. We teach all our children about safeguarding.

We work hard to ensure that everyone keeps careful watch throughout the school and in everything we do for possible dangers or difficulties. We want all children to feel safe at all times. We want to hear their views of how we can improve all aspects of safeguarding and from the evidence gained we put into place all necessary improvements.

SAFEGUARDING STATEMENT

We believe every pupil should be able to participate in school activities in a safe environment and be protected from harm. This is the responsibility of every adult employed by, or invited to deliver services at Cherry Tree Hill Primary School. Our policies are developed from the DFE guidance document 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' (Sept 2023)

We recognise that child abuse is an emotive subject and therefore it is important to understand the feelings involved and not to allow them to interfere with any judgement or action that must be taken. We understand our responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of all our children and adults by protecting them from physical, sexual or emotional abuse, neglect and bullying.

We believe this policy should be a working document that is fit for purpose, represents the school ethos, enables consistency and quality across the school and is related to the following legislation:

- Education Act 1996
- Children Act 2004
- Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006
- Equality Act 2010
- Children and Families Act 2014
- Education Act 2011
- Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015
- Special Educational Needs and Disability (Detained Persons) Regulations 2015

The following documentation is also related to this policy:

- The Prevent Duty: safeguarding learners vulnerable to radicalisation (DfE)
- Protecting children from radicalisation: the prevent duty (DfE)
- Promoting fundamental British values through SMSC (DfE)
- Taylor et al: Addressing extremism through the classroom (Centre for Teachers and Teaching Research, UCL Institute of Education)

- Channel Duty Guidance - Protecting vulnerable people being drawn into terrorism (HM Government)

We believe this policy should be viewed in conjunction with the following policies:

- Safeguarding Part 1 of 4
- Safeguarding Part 2 of 4: Roles and Responsibilities
- Safeguarding Part 3 of 4: Recognising the Signs of Abuse
- Safeguarding Part 4 of 4: Safeguarding Procedures

We are aware that 'Governing bodies and proprietors should ensure there are appropriate policies and procedures in place in order for appropriate action to be taken in a timely manner to safeguard and promote children's welfare.' (Keeping Children Safe in Education: Statutory Guidance for Schools and Colleges (DfE 2019))

We are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of all children and we take account of the information contained in the DfE documents 'Working Together to Safeguard

Children' and 'Keep Children Safe in Education: Statutory Guidance for Schools and Colleges (DfE 2023)' as the safety and protection of children is of paramount importance to everyone in this school.

We believe that all children have the right to be safe in our society. Therefore, we recognise that we have a duty to ensure arrangements are in place for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children by creating a positive school atmosphere through our teaching and learning, pastoral support and care for both pupils and school personnel, training for school personnel and with working with parents.

We are aware that under the 'Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015' we have the duty to have 'due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism'. This duty is known as the Prevent duty and we believe it is essential that school personnel are able to identify those who may be vulnerable to radicalisation or being influenced by extremist views, and then to know what to do when they are identified.

We understand that:

- Extremism is the vocal or active opposition to our fundamental values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and the mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs which also includes calling for the deaths of members of the armed forces.
- Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremist ideologies associated with terrorist groups.
- Terrorism is an action that endangers or causes serious violence to a person/people; causes serious damage to property; or seriously interferes or disrupts an electronic system. The use or threat must be designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public and is made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideological cause.

(Keeping Children Safe in Education: Statutory Guidance for Schools and Colleges (DfE))

We understand that there is no single way of identifying whether a child is likely to be susceptible to extremist ideology. However, there are some behavioural traits that could indicate a child has been exposed to radicalizing influences such as:

Outward appearance

- Becoming increasingly argumentative.
- Refusing to listen to different points of view.
- Unwilling to engage with students who are different.
- Becoming abusive to students who are different.
- Embracing conspiracy ideas.
- Feeling persecuted.

Online behaviour

- Changing online identity.
- Having more than one online identity.
- Spending a lot of time online or on the phone.
- Accessing extremist online content.
- Joining or trying to join an extremist organisation.

- Changing friends and appearance.
- Distancing themselves from old friends.
- No longer doing things they used to enjoy.
- Converting to a new religion.
- Being secretive and reluctant to discuss their whereabouts.
- Sympathetic to extremist ideologies and groups.

We are aware of the Channel programme 'which focuses on providing support at an early stage to people who are identified as being vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism' and it uses a 'multi-agency approach to protect vulnerable people by identifying individuals at risk; assessing the nature and extent of that risk; and developing the most appropriate support plan for the individuals concerned.'

We understand that it is our duty under the statutory guidance on the Prevent duty to have in place a risk assessment, a working partnership with the Local Safeguarding Children Boards (LSCBs), training school personnel and IT policies.

We have a duty to actively promote and embed British values such as 'democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs' within this school and to challenge pupils, school personnel or parents who express extremist views contrary to these values. We want to ensure pupils are prepared for life in modern Britain by the active promotion of and respect of British values.

We do not shy away from teaching British values as we believe that schools have a major role to play in upholding them in order to develop children's resilience against extremism and acts of terrorism.

We work hard to ensure British values are embedded across the whole curriculum and the school ethos through spiritual, moral, social and cultural lessons, citizenship and PSHE.

We aim to be judged at least good in all school inspections by ensuring that we have in place arrangements to promote pupils' welfare and curriculum measures in place to prevent radicalisation and extremism.

We will refer any concerns we may have regarding individuals or groups of individuals who have or demonstrate extremist views to the relevant outside agencies as we feel that we have a duty to intervene at the earliest opportunity and to protect those concerned.

We will ensure that counter-radicalisation strategies will not prevent teachers discussing with their pupils controversial ideas and topics as we wish pupils to further develop their own critical thinking skills.

We wish to work closely with the school council and to hear their views and opinions as we acknowledge and support Article 12 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child that children should be encouraged to form and to express their views.

We as a school community have a commitment to promote equality. Therefore, an equality impact assessment has been undertaken and we believe this policy is in line with the Equality Act 2010.

We all have a responsibility to ensure equality permeates in to all aspects of school life and that everyone is treated equally irrespective of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation. We want everyone connected with this school to feel safe, secure, valued and of equal worth.

We believe it is essential that this policy clearly identifies and outlines the roles and responsibilities of all those involved in the procedures and arrangements that are connected with this policy.

Aims

- To have in place a safeguarding and child protection policy and related policies that outline clear procedures to ensure that we meet our responsibilities for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of all children.

Addendum

September 2021

We understand that recent research undertaken by UCL's Institute of Education has found that teachers:

- are reporting a rise in extremist views and conspiracy theories among pupils;
- view their role in tackling extremism as one of mandated reporting of pupils at risk of radicalisation rather than education;
- are worried about:
  - talking about extreme views in the classroom just in case they got it wrong;
  - not knowing how much of their own views to share in discussions;
  - the difficulty of hearing views that conflicted with their own values.
- recognise the conflict between fostering open discussions while ensuring the classroom remained safe for all pupils.

We believe that:

- every pupil should be taught how to reject extremist beliefs and ideologies;
- schools need time, training and resources to teach pupils how to tackle the rise in extremist views;
- time in the curriculum must be found to have frank and open discussions about extremism
- dangerous ideologies must never be swept under the carpet;
- the power of education must be used to help pupils stand up and reject extremism and violence.

January 2023

We are aware of the recent guidance 'The Prevent duty: safeguarding learners vulnerable to radicalisation' (DfE) that:

- is designed:
  - for DSLs and those working in education settings who have responsibility for keeping children and young people safe;
  - to explain the Prevent referral process and the statutory responsibilities for keeping children and young people safe;
  - to prepare DSLs to respond effectively and get support for people who may be exploited by radicalizing influences.
- includes the following sections:
  - The Prevent duty: an introduction for those with safeguarding responsibilities

- Managing radicalisation and extremism safeguarding concerns.
  - Immediate steps to take.
  - Staff responsibilities in relation to the Prevent duty.

Guidance to Staff - What to do if there are radicalisation/extremism concerns

From 1 July 2015 all schools are subject to a duty under the section 26 Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015, in the exercise of their functions, to have 'due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism'. This duty is known as the Prevent duty. It applies to a wide range of public-facing bodies. Bodies to which the duty applies must have regard to the statutory guidance. This can be found www.gov.uk (Prevent duty guidance for England and Wales)

As a nation we are working together to counter terrorism the strategy is to:

- Prevent
- Pursue
- Protect
- Prepare

We are doing this by focusing on three strategic objectives (Three I's):

- Ideological Challenges – raising awareness to other ideas, perspectives
- Supporting Individuals – this is through the Channel Process (referral process)
- Supporting Institutions – ensuring strategies are in place to protect institutions that hold lots of people i.e. hospitals, schools, prisons etc

Even though PREVENT sits with the Home Office remit, safeguarding principles still apply. Some of the indicators apparent in other safeguarding issues will be seen in a young person, who is being 'groomed' to join an extreme faith group or belief, however, some indicators are more specific:

- Young person becoming isolated
- Spending lots of time on the internet
- Locking themselves in their room
- Changing mosque
- Talking about change in expectations around faith/belief i.e. they do not have to pray anymore, go to the mosque on a Friday – a new faith dictates that this is now not necessary or expressing strong right wing views etc
- Specific racist/political language/views being expressed
- Altering appearance and dress to reflect norms of certain organisations

It is important to remember that PREVENT is not just about Islamic extremist but also right wing extremists who may have a beliefs regarding refugees, asylum seekers and ethnic minority groups etc. Any racism or belief should not be tolerated where a risk to others is apparent.

Although the above are not always a sole indicator of a young person making the transition to extremism, they should be considered and as with all safeguarding concerns be explored and considered alongside other vulnerability factors and environmental issues.

As a school we will ensure we raise awareness of this subject matter through our curriculum and training of staff. We will also ensure information is shared where appropriate with relevant agencies to support this matter should it become apparent.

If you are concerned you need to:

- Follow the Safeguarding/Child Protection Policy.
- Inform the Designated Safeguarding Lead, who will seek further advice from Sally Siner, Prevent Education Officer, Community Safety & Integration Service, The Council House, Corporation Street, Derby DE1 2FS, Mobile 07765 222 032 Email: Sally.siner@derby.gov.uk
- If you have definite concerns about a young person and factual information then contact the Police Prevent Unit by phone or email and ask for:
Sgt Shin Field - (Head of PREVENT Unit)
Tel: 101 (ask for The Prevent Team)

The PREVENT team will then make an assessment, look at intelligence etc – if they feel they present a risk or need support, they will contact you for more information (they should also contact you if they feel the referral is not a concern). The referral is then passed to Dawn Robinson who coordinates the CHANNEL Panel.

CHANNEL panel is a multi-agency meeting that discusses a referral, shares multi agency information about a young person and/or their family and make an assessment as to action to be taken.
